6 OZ 24/410 EVOLUTION ROUND WHITE HDPE BOTTLE

Part 110570 gives development teams a focused basis for testing this bottle packaging format. The 24/410 designation should be verified dimensionally because nominal finish names do not guarantee identical sealing behavior. Commercial approval should reflect filled-package testing under realistic processing and distribution conditions. Product teams may consider it for cosmetics, personal care, wellness, supplements, household, and specialty products. That discipline protects both package performance and the consumer experience.
