Product developers comparing flow-control fitment options can use Part 113650, the 13mm Natural Orifice Reducer .057, as a focused candidate for qualification. Filled-package trials should confirm dosage, recovery, sealing, component fit, and shipping performance. The component should be evaluated within the assembled package, where tolerances and user interaction become more meaningful. It is relevant to essential oils, liquid supplements, flavors, reagents, and concentrates. The best result will balance line efficiency with intuitive consumer use.
