89MM WHITE LDPE SEALING DISC WITH TAB

This package sealing component pairs a defined specification with practical manufacturing and consumer-use considerations. A sealing disc is only as reliable as the container land, closure pressure, liner construction, and process window. Appropriate markets can include cosmetics, personal care, supplements, wellness, household, and laboratory packaging. Final approval should follow closure-fit testing, seal evaluation, decoration review, and shipping trials. The objective is a package that feels intentional at every point of use.
